*Counsel for the Garretson Resolution Group,
Inc., as Tronox Incorporated Tort Claims
Trustee*

The Garretson Resolution Group, Inc., the Tort Claims Trustee (“Trustee”) of the Tronox Tort Claims Trust (“Trust”), submits this omnibus objection to the Motions for Allowance of Future Tort Claims listed on the Schedule of Motions annexed hereto (“Motions”).

Each of the Motions was filed by or on behalf of an individual who submitted to the Trust a claim form that stated that the claimant was exposed to a Tronox product and manifested injury prior to August 12, 2009, but did not file a Proof of Claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case. Under this Court’s January 19, 2017 Order, such claims cannot be allowed as Future Tort Claims unless the Court determines that (i) the claimant’s failure to file a timely proof of claim should be excused on grounds of excusable neglect, or (ii) the purported discharge of the claimant’s claim was a violation of due process and therefore ineffective. The Movant bears the burden of proof of both of these issues. In re Chemtura Corp., 09-11233, 2016 Bankr. Lexis 4056 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Nov. 23, 2016). Each of the claimants were provided a form Motion with instructions to provide, under penalty of perjury, “all facts and reasons that the Court should consider”. For the reasons provided below, all the Motions fail to satisfy their burden of proof and should be denied.¹

Furthermore, the Trust has sorted the Motions into eight separate groups (identified as Groups A through I), each of which share similar characteristics that provide an additional independent justification for their denial.

A. Due Process Was Afforded to All Parties Entitled to Notice

1. This Court Has Determined That Notice Provided by Tronox Satisfied Due Process.

The Supreme Court has held that due process requires notice reasonably calculated to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and the opportunity to object. In re Johns-

Manville, 552 B.R. 221, 239-40 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2016) (citing Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314, 70 S.Ct. 652, 94 L.Ed. 865 (1950)). The proper inquiry is whether the party giving notice acted reasonably in selecting means likely to inform persons affected and not whether the intended recipient actually received notice. Id. at 240 (citing Weigner v. City of New York, 852 F.2d 646, 649 (2d Cir. 1988)). For unknown creditors whose identities or claims are not reasonably ascertainable, and for creditors who hold only conceivable, conjectural, or speculative claims, constructive notice of the bar date by publication is sufficient to satisfy due process. Id.

In these proceedings, on May 28, 2009, Judge Gropper entered an Order (A) Setting Bar Dates for Filing Proofs of Claim, (B) Approving the Form and Manner for Filing Proofs of Claim and (C) Approving Notice Thereof [Doc. No. 466] (the “Bar Date Order”). Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, the Court set August 12, 2009 (the “Bar Date”) as the deadline for claimants to file Proofs of Claim. Additionally, the Bar Date Order prescribed notice procedures which included publication of the Bar Date in the Wall Street Journal and in thirty-five site specific publications (i.e., the local newspapers where Tronox operated at a site). Bar Date Order at 8. Additionally, notice was mailed to individual tort claimants where individual contact information was known and, where individual contact information for tort claimants was not known, to their counsel of record on their behalf. Id.

The Bar Date Order specifically held that the proposed form and manner of notice of the Bar Date constituted adequate and sufficient notice of the Bar Date and satisfied the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Local Bankruptcy Rules for the Southern District of New York and General Order M-279. Id. at 9. No appeal was taken from the Bar Date Order.

None of the Motions allege that the Movant was a known creditor who did not receive actual notice of the Bar Date. None provide any facts or law that justify this Court reversing Judge Gropper's determination that the notice provided by the Debtor satisfied the due process rights of all unknown claimants. None of the Motions carry their burden to demonstrate a lack of due process.

2. Many of the Movants' Claims Were Barred Even Before Tronox Filed Bankruptcy

As a practical matter, even actual notice of the Bar Date would have been irrelevant for many of the Movants, since their claims were barred well before Tronox ever filed bankruptcy. Many of the Motions admit that the Movant was diagnosed with an injury or disease several years before Tronox commenced its bankruptcy case. The applicable statute of limitations in the relevant states range from one to six years. A total of 2,168 of the Motions seek to assert claims that were barred by the applicable statute of limitations before Tronox filed its chapter 11 petition. These Movants are identified as Group A on the attached Schedule. Arguments of lack of notice or excusable neglect are unavailing for these Movants. For this reason, all Motions designated as Group A on the attached Schedule should be denied.

B. None of the Motions Demonstrate Excusable Neglect

As this Court is well aware, the standard for excusable neglect was provided by the Supreme Court in Pioneer Investment Services Company v. Brunswick Associates Limited Partnership, 507 U.S. 380 (1993). In Pioneer, the Court stated that the determination of whether a party's neglect is excusable "is at bottom an equitable one, taking account of all relevant circumstances surrounding the party's omission." Pioneer, 507 U.S. at 395. Those circumstances include "[1] the danger of prejudice to the [non-moving party], [2] the length of the delay and its potential impact on judicial proceedings, [3] the reason for the delay, including whether it was within the reasonable control of the Movant, and [4] whether the Movant acted in good faith.” Id. at 395.

The Second Circuit has adopted a “hard line” test for determining whether a party’s neglect was excusable. Midland Cogeneration Venture L.P. v. Enron Corp. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 121 (2d Cir. 2005). It has been repeatedly acknowledged in the Second Circuit that the equities will rarely if ever favor a party who “fail[s] to follow the clear dictates of a court rule,” and “where the rule is entirely clear ... a party claiming excusable neglect will, in the ordinary course, lose under the Pioneer test.” In re St. James Mech., Inc., 434 B.R. 54, 60 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2010) (citing Silivanch v. Celebrity Cruises, Inc., 333 F.3d 355, 368 (2d Cir. 2003)). As discussed below, applying the Pioneer test to the Motions requires that all of the Motions listed on the attached Schedule should be denied.²

1. The Trust Would Be Prejudiced If the Allowance Motions Were Granted.

Courts in the Second Circuit and other circuits regularly cite the potential flood of similar claims as sufficient prejudice to the non-moving party to justify the denial of a motion to file a late claim. Mich. Self-Insurers' Sec. Fund v. DPH Holdings, Corp. (In re DPH Holdings, Inc.), 434 B.R. 77, 82 (S.D.N.Y. 2010); see also Midland Cogeneration Venture L.P. v. Enron Corp. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 132, n.2 (2d Cir. 2005).

It is clear from the sheer number of Motions that granting the Motions will open a floodgate of additional claims against the Trust and another avalanche of motions seeking this Court’s intervention after they are disallowed by the Trust.³ The Payment Percentage that the Trust is projecting to be able to pay to Allowed Future Tort Claims and Allowed Asbestos Claims is already approximately one percent. The administration of these claims, which are simply pre-petition claims that were not filed by the Bar Date, will exhaust the Trust's assets and diminish to immateriality the amounts that the Trust can distribute to (i) claimants who were unable to file claims in the bankruptcy case because their injuries did not manifest themselves until after the Bar Date, and (ii) Holders of Allowed Asbestos Claims who share the same fund as Future Tort Claims.

2. Granting the Motions Will Materially Delay and Prejudice the Administration of the Trust.

When considering the length of delay and its potential impact on judicial proceedings, the Second Circuit has stated that there is no bright-line rule governing when the lateness of a claim will be considered so "substantial" as to require disallowance. Weisfelner v. Blavatnik (In re Lyondell Chem. Co.), 543 B.R. 400, 410 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2016) (citing Midland Cogeneration Venture L.P. v. Enron Corp. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 128 (2d Cir. 2005)). The length of the delay is only given meaning by its effect on the administration of the case. Id. This factor unquestionably favors denial of the Motions. The Bar Date was August 12, 2009. The Plan was confirmed on November 30, 2010. The earliest claim filed against the Trust by any of the Movants (each of which were diagnosed with an injury or disease prior to the Bar Date) was filed in 2014, five years after the Bar Date, four years after confirmation of the Tronox Plan, and one year after 880 timely-filed Asbestos Claims had been allowed by the Trust. None of the Movants applied to this Court to seek relief from the Bar Date until the recent Determination Notice provided them instructions and a form motion to do so, eight years after the Bar Date. In the Enron case, the Court found that a delay in filing a proof of claim of more than six months after the bar date was substantial enough to weigh in favor of denying a motion to file a late claim. In re Enron Corp., 298 B.R. 513, 526 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003), aff'd, Midland Cogeneration Venture Ltd. v. Enron Corp. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115 (2d Cir. 2005). In reaching that conclusion, the bankruptcy court held:

³ The filing rate of potential Future Tort Claims against the Trust has continued unabated. In addition to the 17,322 claims that the Trust processed, resulting in the filing of the current Motions, another 17,726 Future Tort Claims have been filed. The Trust continues to receive more each week.

The Court . . . notes that the Bar Date Order was meant to function as a statute of limitations and effectively exclude such late claims in order to provide the Debtors and their creditors with finality to the claims process and permit the Debtors to make swift contributions under any confirmed plan of reorganization. To find otherwise, that is outside the context of excusable neglect, would vitiate the very purpose of the Bar Date Order and would clearly prejudice the Debtors' reorganization process.

In re Enron Corp., 298 B.R. at 526.

The Trustee submits that an eight-year delay in filing a claim, coupled with the prejudicial effect that the allowance of thousands of these late claims will have on the administration of the Trust and the payment of claims held by claimants who actually complied with the applicable filing requirements⁴ outweighs any reason that an individual claimant may have for not filing a proof of claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case. Thus, all of the Motions listed on the attached Schedule should be denied.

3. The Allowance Motions Provide Insufficient Reason For Failing to File a Timely Proof of Claim.

⁴ Approximately 880 Asbestos Claims have been allowed by the Trust since 2013, but cannot receive any distribution because the onslaught of Future Tort Claims makes it impossible for the Trustee to establish an appropriate Payment Percentage for Allowed Asbestos Claims and Allowed Future Tort Claims, which share the same fund and must be paid the same Payment Percentage. The deluge of alleged Future Tort Claims threatens to reduce that Payment Percentage significantly below the one percent figure which is currently estimated by the Trust.

As noted above, the reason for delay is weighed heavily by the Second Circuit for purposes of determining excusable neglect. The Movant must provide a convincing explanation for the delay in order to satisfy the third Pioneer factor. O'Connell v. DeMartino (In re DeMartino), 484 B.R. 550, 556 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2012). Some Motions (a total of 299) provided no reason at all. These Motions are identified as Group B. The failure to provide any reason for failure to file a timely claim requires that all of the Motions identified as Group B on the attached Schedule should be denied.

In addition, some of the papers submitted as a “Motion” were so deficient, or the information was so incomplete, that neither the Trust nor the Court can begin to analyze whether there are any grounds whatsoever for the motion. For example, some claimants filed nothing but a single page of the form motion. Others filed nothing but a signature page. These “Motions” (289 in total) are identified on the attached Schedule and Group C. All of the Motions identified as Group C on the attached Schedule should be denied for this reason.

Claimants who did provide a reason for not filing a claim provided a variety of reasons, but a number of them can be broadly categorized for purposes of objection. The Trust’s objection to these groups for Motions are identified by letters D through H on the attached Schedule and are described below.

A number of Motions simply stated, in one way or another, that the claimant provided documentation concerning their claim to an attorney, and that attorney failed to file their claim in the Tronox case. These Motions (233 in total) are identified as Group D on the attached Schedule. Another group of Motions (79 in total) stated that the Movant was told by some third party they could not file a claim. These are identified as Group E on the attached Schedule. And finally, a number of them (10 in total) said they simply forgot to file. These are identified as Group F on the attached Schedule. Claimants that assert these reasons admit having some notice of the requirement to file a claim in the Tronox case. Their broad statements of excuse do not carry their high burden of proving that their neglect to file was excusable. See, In re Victory Mem'l Hosp., 435 B.R. 1 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2010) (motion for leave pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9006(b)(1) to file a late proof of claim was denied where unknown tort creditor was deemed to receive publication notice, waited almost two years after bar date to seek to file late claim and blamed failure to move earlier on medical leave taken by attorney handling her case).

Another set of Allowance Motions is peculiar because all of them (245 in total) state the exact same reason for their failure to file a claim in the Tronox case. That reason, which appears to be copied from another document and pasted into each of their Motions, is stated as follows:

- I was not aware/had no knowledge of the Tronox Bankruptcy Case.
- I did not see any public notifications via newspaper, television or any kind of social media.
- I did acquire the 1-800-753-2480 phone number by word of mouth after August 12, 2009; after which I called to acquire the Future Tort Claims Form in order to submit my claim in the Tronox Bankruptcy Case.

These motions are identified as Group G on the attached schedule. The stated reason in these Motions, while more detailed than most, falls well short of carrying the heavy burden of proving excusable neglect. Even when given its most favorable interpretation, the Movants state that they became aware of the Bar Date “after August 12, 2009.” That is five years before the earliest of the Movants filed their claims against the Trust or their motions seeking relief from this Court. These rote excuses, even if accepted as legitimate, do not rise to the level of excusable neglect. See In re Lehman Bros. Holdings, Inc., 433 B.R. 113, 122 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2010) (Court disallowed late claims where creditors claimed they did not know of their claims, but claims were knowable with reasonable investigation, stating that “[c]reditors act at their peril where they fail to adequately investigate and pursue their rights.”). All of the Motions that fall within the categories identified as Groups D through G on the attached Schedule should be denied.

4. Whether the Movants Acted in Good Faith.

Solely for purposes of this objection, the Trustee presumes the Movants have acted in good faith. Even if this prong weighs in favor of the Movants, it does not overcome the substantial weight of the other three factors of all of which favor denial of the Allowance Motions.

C. Late-Filed Motions

Finally, the Trust objects to the Motions identified as Group H and Group I on the attached schedule because the motions were not filed with the Court by the ninety-day deadline that was established by the Court’s January 19, 2017 Order. The Motions identified as Group H (271 in total) were filed with the Court after the expiration of the ninety-day deadline that was established by the Court. The Motions listed in Group I (251 in total) were received by counsel for the Trust, but as of December 31, 2017, those Motions had not been filed with the Court. Failure to file a timely motion in light of the Court’s specific instruction contained in the Court-approved Determination Notice is alone grounds for denial. All of the Motions identified as falling in either Group H or Group I on the attached Schedule should be denied.

II. Conclusion

The publication notice approved by the Bar Date Order satisfied the due process rights of the unknown claimants asserting the Motions, and there is no basis to grant any of the Motions for lack of due process. Furthermore, none of the Motions satisfy their burden in establishing excusable neglect. In addition, the Trust submits that the following Groups of Motions should be denied for the additional reasons stated above and summarized below:

Group A: Barred by the statute of limitations.

Group B: No reason at all given for late filing.

- Group C: Deficient papers submitted as a “Motion.”
- Group D: Claimant’s attorney failed to file the claim.
- Group E: Did not file on advice of non-attorney third party.
- Group F: Forgot to file.
- Group G: “Formulaic” reason stated in the Motion does not carry burden of proof.
- Group H: Motion was filed with the Court after deadline.
- Group I: Motion was not filed with the Court.

The Trustee requests the Court deny all of the Motions included on the attached Schedule and provide the Trustee such further relief as the Court determines is proper.
